TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

We provide model events on the two days prior to the competition next to Csákvár, in the form of fixed courses. These courses can be visited any time of the day on the 17th or 18th August. More details regarding these model events will be published closer to the competition.

TERRAIN

The terrain for both Middle and Long days is mainly characterised by granite rock formations, deep valleys, rapidly changing runnability, large areas of open forest and dense vegetation mazes. The latest orienteering competitions on these areas were held in 2007 on Ingókő and 1996 on Meleg Hill, hence all maps are prepared from scratch.

The terrain for the sprint competition on day 3 (Sukoró Arboretum) have different characteristic. Here, the very rapidly changing runnability, dense vegetation in many places and intricate detail provides a good basis for a typical forest sprint competition.

MAPS

Middle and Long distance:

Mapped 2019–2020, M=1:10 000 / 5 m and 1:15 000 / 5 m.

Sprint:

Please be warned that we will organise an orienteers' party every night near the entrance of this campsite. As a consequence, we are unable to guarantee a completely relaxing environment even after 10PM. Dormitory: Velence, Dr. Entz Ferenc College of Agriculture (Event Center). Prices are 3500 HUF/person/night. Available places: 80.

A variety of additional accommodation options are available on the websites szállás.hu and booking.com.

Please be advised that due to the expected high demand for accommodation at this time period (long weekend combined with the fact that Velence is a local favourite holiday destination) it is recommended that reservations are made already in 2019, as free places are likely to be limited as we get closer to the holiday season.
