Welcome to Hong Kong

“Have you ever experienced the pain of having to decide between sightseeing and orienteering on your trips? Fear not! We think we have the perfect answer: Just visit Hong Kong. A rare place where there is nothing stopping you from striking perfect harmony between being an orienteer and a tourist, while having everything within arms reach - imagine having to travel for more than 2 hours and missing out on far away sights, not here in Hong Kong. Delicious local cuisine, rich history of a fishing village turned jewel of the east, bustling business centre with a marvellous harbour and night views, the captivatingly unique nature scape and proximity to where everything happens in the city. We think the compactness is part of the appeal, where after a day's racing you can seamlessly transition into experiencing our world famous city.”

There is honestly not much better than a complete tour mixed with high-adrenaline orienteering and relaxing times touring our beautiful city, so act now and don't miss the chance!

Welcome

CHAN Chi Sing, Clement,
President of Orienteering Association of Hong Kong

“2021 is the 40th anniversary of the Orienteering Association of Hong Kong. We celebrate this joyous year by hosting the 4th Asian Junior and Youth Orienteering Championships (the 4th AsJYOC) as well as our first Hong Kong Orienteering Week (HK O Week 2021). On behalf of the community of Hong Kong, we would like to extend a warm welcome to all participating athletes, team officials and the public across Asia and other parts of the world.

Hong Kong is a travel-friendly and accommodating place to visit. We have long been known as the Pearl of the Orient, Food and Shopping Paradise. The 4th AsJYOC and HK O Week 2021 bring you to experience our culture and immerse yourself in this glamorous city.

Special gratitude must be given to Mr. Hideo INABA, our Senior Event Adviser and Mr. Shin MURAKOSHI, one of our best friends in the orienteering community, for their unfailing guidance and support. I would also like to express a huge thank you to all the members within the organising committee including Mr. Patrick NG, the National Controller, and the four young, creative and enthusiastic Event Directors.

Last but not least, I would like to take this opportunity to express our heartfelt thankfulness to the Home Affairs Bureau and the Leisure and Cultural Services Department for their support.”

MA Lok Hin,
Event Director of AsJYOC

“The Orienteering Association of Hong Kong has already hosted a considerable number of successful international orienteering events in Hong Kong. We have staged the APOC in 1986, 1996, 2006, a World Cup in 1988, the first AsJYOC in 2015, and the AsOC in 2018. After 6 years, the AsJYOC has finally come back to this little place.

Every year, the Asian championship is the moment that athletes from Asian federations demonstrate their efforts devoted over the year. Their experiences absorbed from competitions all around the world go to the same place and boost the level of Asia orienteering.

Besides competitions, the championships are where numerous friendships and memories are born – these are our objectives and core values in preparing the event. We hope our event can serve as the foundations of future relationships and their best memories, especially for Asian youth and junior orienteers. We desire to see interactions and connections among different nationalities and cultures.

Please join us and enjoy the fun in the 4th AsJYOC and HK O Week 2021! We look forward to having you all in this memorable event.”

Venues Overview

Access to Hong Kong

Hong Kong is a regional hub for international business. Travelling to Hong Kong is convenient from all over the world. Hong Kong International Airport is the major airport in Hong Kong which connects to around 220 destinations worldwide. The airport express takes approximately 30 minutes to the city centre. High Speed Rail connects Hong Kong with Mainland's national high-speed rail network. The West Kowloon station is in the city centre which facilitates access to the heart of Hong Kong.

Transportation

Transportation will be provided to teams throughout the AsJYOC weekend. Coaches can also be arranged for teams during arrival or departure on request. The public transport facilities in Hong Kong are well developed. Teams may travel around Hong Kong conveniently during your stay.

Terrain Description & Competition Maps Information

Middle distance
Date	25 th December 2021 (Saturday)
Organiser	HO Tsz Hang, Stephen
Map	Chow Tin Tsuen, 1:10000, 5m contour interval, drawn by NG Kwan Tong in ISOM 2017
Course Planner	CHUNG Chi Ming, Tom

“The competition area is an undulating plain (hügelland) covered by thin vegetations located in the northern part of Hong Kong, which has never been used for orienteering. However, it has been used as part of the competition area for Rogaining recently (in early 2020). Unlike most of the middle/long orienteering venues in Hong Kong, vegetations in the competition area are open and clear. The advantage from high running speed will be minimised and the sense of direction will be the main battlefield, which makes an orienteering competition more “orienteering”. Nevertheless, the high visibility allows spectators and audience to observe the runners and will certainly boost the competition atmosphere. It will definitely bring both overseas representatives and local competitors a brand-new orienteering experience.”

Sprint

Date	26 th December 2021 (Sunday)
Organiser	MA Lok Hin
Map	San Tin, 1:4000, 2m contour interval, drawn by SHIU Chit Hei, Ivan in ISSprOM 2019
Course Planner	LI Chun Ho, Matthew

“San Tin is a typical Hong Kong old village located in the northern part of Hong Kong but a new village for orienteering. Different from Sheung Shui Wai, where the sprint event of AsOC 2018 was held, the road networks in San Tin are more irregular and provide more challenge for route choices. The typical village structure and similar view around will make competitors feel like running in a maze. Extremely high running speed as well as high concentration are demanded. Every second matters but do not forget to have a glance on the 155 years old Tai Fu Tai Mansion!”

Sprint Relay

Date	27 th December 2021 (Monday)
Organiser	LAM Hei Yiu, Alicia
Map	Ma Wan, 1:4000, 2m contour interval, drawn by CHAN Chun Kit in ISSprOM 2019
Course Planner	KWOK Kin Kwan

“Maybe this is one of the super tiny islands for orienteering ever in the world. Ma Wan is one of the islands in the North-East part of Lantau Island, surrounded by four busy marine channels. There is no other venue where you compete in terrain ranging from old fishing villages, estates with modern parks, and beaches in one sitting, with the rails and cars shuttling on the 13th longest spanning suspension bridge - Tsing Ma Bridge. The mix of old fisherman village and model village estates on the island is also an attraction for both locals and visitors. With the opportunity to have orienteering here, you can see a lot more than being a normal tourist!”
